APPLY FOR A SALOON LICENSE

The bonds having been approved by the city council, forty-three applications for licenses to sell liquor in Ogden, either by retail or wholesale, have been filed with the clerk of the district court. A time for hearing the applications has not been fixed by the judges of the district court, but that will be done within the next week or ten days. Both judges will pass on the applications.

Just what eliminations will be made is a matter largely of conjecture. The construction of the law has not been definitely given by the court and there may be some surprises when the matter is taken up in court. Some of the applicants for licenses are not in business at this time, they having applied for a license prior to the enactment of the new liquor law which was passed by the council over the mayor's veto, but withdrew them. The new law provides that saloons that were granted licenses June 6th, under the old law, shall have their licenses renewed notwithstanding the fact that the law provides that there shall not be more than one saloon for each 1,000 people.

Following are the applications

A GIRL IS KIDNAPED

Three Hundred Armed Men Hunting For a Brute

Snowflake, Man., Sept. 12.—A fierce man hunt has been under way for the last twenty-four hours, ten miles south between here and the United States boundary, following the kidnapping of a young school teacher, Eleanor Gladys Bryce, by a man alleged to be Henry "Bill" Wilson, alias "Bill" Minor, of Hannah, N. D.

All last night a posse of 300 armed men pursued the fugitive through the bushes and many shots were exchanged at sunrise, where he was surrounded in the dense woods.

Bloodhounds picked up the trail five miles from the school house where the man captured the girl Monday afternoon. She returned home in a frightful condition last night.

Residents of this section are so worked up that scores of constables directing the pursuit will be unable to protect the man, if he is captured.

When Miss Bryce's fiancé, who led the search for her, whistled their signal, she heard him, but says she was prevented from answering by the threats of the man who held her captive.

When Miss Bryce failed to appear at the Patterson home, where she boarded, Monday night, it was thought she had gone to stay with friends, but when she did not appear Tuesday morning a search was started by Frank Patterson, to whom she is engaged to be married.

On entering the school house, the party found evidences of a desperate struggle. There was blood in many places and fragments of torn clothing. An alarm immediately was raised. On a small bluff, about fifteen yards from the school house, parts of the girl's clothing were found, as well as a whisky bottle.

The appearance of Miss Bryce at the Rinn farm house last evening was dramatic. She was laboring under great excitement and appeared to be dazed. Her face was badly battered where her assailant had repeatedly beaten her.

At one time she declared he hit her several times over the head with a whisky bottle. Miss Bryce stated that the ruffian had guarded her for thirty hours with a loaded rifle and that she had only been able to escape when he told her to go.

She was seated in the school room, she said, when a man said to be "Bill" Wilson suddenly appeared in the doorway and pointed a rifle at her. A struggle ensued and Wilson hit the girl over the head with a bottle, and then carried her off into the bush.

After a while he compelled her to walk and they traveled deeper into the underbrush. Here Wilson hit a fire and the terrified girl spent the night with Wilson watching her and threatening to shoot at the first sound from her.

She said Wilson drank heavily of gin through the night and smoked many cigarettes. The pleas of the girl that he allow her to return were ignored. All night long she moved about, trying to keep warm and watching in vain for a chance to escape.

Day came and Wilson wanted to take her across the river. He said he was a ranchman and would grant her anything she wanted, but she refused to accompany him. By this time, the girl said, Wilson's liquor and cigarettes gave out. The effects of the liquor seemed to be wearing off and at 7 o'clock he consented to allow her to return home.

"I am sorry this happened," Then, telling her he intended cutting all the telephone wires in the district to prevent his capture, he left her and she made her way to the farm of John Rinn.

GREAT STRUGGLE COMING IN CHINA

Washington, Sept. 12.—In the opinion of students of Oriental affairs, China is rapidly approaching a great crisis in her history. The uprising in Sze Chuen province is expected to extend to other neighboring provinces and especially to the Yangtze valley, where the Mongolian element has for many years been opposed to the reigning Manchurian dynasty. Evidently prepared for trouble, the government has been quick to dispatch troops to the disaffected district and deal with the situation with a strong hand. It is believed here that the government will be able to suppress the present disturbance, though the unforeseen disastrous flooding of the Yangtze valley is expected to drive thousands of the unfortunate natives, whose means of support have been destroyed, into the ranks of the revolutionists.

But it is believed that the Sze Chuen uprising is only the precursor of other outbreaks in different parts of the Flower Kingdom, for the fact is that the struggle now going on is really a gigantic test of the relative strength and power of the central government, as opposed to the provincial governments; in other words, the situation resembles the great feudal wars in Europe in the early ages. It is believed the Chinese government will now be put to the same test.

While the sympathy of Occidental nations must remain with the Chinese central government, there can be no interference in this great internal strife and the activities of other nations, at least for the present, must be confined to the protection of their own citizens resident in China.

Master Stubblefield is making the greater part of the trip over the Harriman lines and is being taken care of by the trainmen and the depot officials at the various transfer points.

ENGINEERS AT DAM SITE

A corps of engineers for the city pitched camp at the South Fork reservoir dam site yesterday evening and early this morning were surveying the ground to be stripped for the reservoir dam. Both Engineer Bostaph and his assistant, W. E. Roche are giving the matter their personal attention, they feeling their responsibility and realizing that much depends on the primary work.

It is stated that by this evening enough of the survey will be completed to permit the O'Neill Construction company to place a force of men and teams on the work tomorrow morning, clearing away the rock and earth from the site selected for the dam. Every possible precaution is being taken to disclose the true conditions of the site, so that when it is uncovered it will be definitely known whether the bedrock is sufficiently strong to support a dam of large proportions.

The engineer states that while the dam the first year may not be of great proportions, it is a certainty that in succeeding years it will have to be enlarged to a point where it will hold a large quantity of water. The foundation must be secure in every particular, says Mr. Bostaph, and so far as he is concerned, he is going to see to it that the dam is not started on a sandbar.

It is calculated by the engineer that there is sufficient reservoir capacity and enough water to fill the reservoir space to supply all the needs of Ogden and Weber county with water for many years to come. The time limit, he says, is almost indefinite if the work is begun right and the people furnish the funds necessary to make the undertaking substantial. The O'Neill company is moving its construction forces to the dam site today.

PROGRESS OF WORK ON DREADNOUGHTS

Washington, Sept. 12.—The work of construction of the five big Dreadnoughts, now building for the navy, made good headway last month. The Wyoming at Cranage yards advanced from 70.8 to 77.5 per cent of completion and the Newport News builders brought the Texas along from 24.8 to 30 per cent. The New York navy yard advanced the condition of the battleship New York from 2.5 to 4.5, probably in the matter of assembling of material, and at the same time carried the battleship Florida forward a half per cent. This comparatively slow record is explained by the fact that very little work remains to be done on the ship, which now stands at 98.6 per cent. The New York Shipbuilding company brought the percentage of the Arkansas up from 71.5 to 72.5.

Only seven of the fifteen torpedoes destroyed now under contract showed any advancement during August. But a good deal of progress has been made in the construction of the seventeen submarine boats now building. Practically no work has been done up on the two sea-going tugs and the five colliers now on the stocks.

WHEAT PRICES ARE HAMMERED DOWN

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Hammering down of wheat prices followed promptly today news of a bearish crop report of the French government. The document estimated the yield at 320,000,000 bushels as compared with 268,000,000 bushels a year ago. Cable dispatches told of increasing offers from Canada and Russia. There was a marked disposition by speculators to wait for a clearer outlook concerning reciprocity. The opening was 1.8 @14 to 1.2 @15 lower. December, showing the same change as the market taken altogether, started at 95 1-4 to 96 5-8, touched 96 1-8 @14 and rallied to 96 3-8 @12.

Liberal business in flour at Minneapolis and St. Louis caused a decided upturn. There were also reports of Germany buying wheat and bran at St. Louis. The close was steady with December at 96 3-4 @15.8c, exactly the same as last night.

An advance at Liverpool rallied the corn market there. Prices otherwise were inclined to sag owing to favorable weather. December opened unchanged at 64 1-4, rose to 64 3-8 @14, and then rose to 64 1-2.

Scarcity of sellers made oats firm. December started a shade higher at 46 1-8 and went up to 46 1-4.

With foreigners buying a little, hog products showed a steady tone. First
